The Blume murder case, which has occu-Grates and Tiles), New No. 1201 Mass. ave. | pled the attention of the Boone Circuit Court, at Lebanon, for the last eight days, went to the jury yesterday shortly after the noon recess. Judge Higgins, in the course of his instructions to the jury on the question of insanity, said: "The term mind, in law, includes all the powers and faculties of the mental organization. It includes not only the intellectual attributes, memory, the power to know, to understand, to entertain consecutive thought, to reflect and meditate, but it also includes the will power; that is, it includes that faculty by which a person is impelled to perform or not to perform a particular act. So if any of the faculties of the mind, whether the intellectual or the will power, be so impaired by disease or any other cause, as that such faculty is, in fact, unsound, then a person so afflicted is of unsound mind, in contemplation of the law. Therefore, I instruct you that a person may have sufficient mental capacity to know right from nature and consequences of his act, and yet be not criminally responsible for his acts; for, if the will power is so impaired that he cannot resist an impulse to commit a crime, he is not of sound mind. If the lack of will power is the result of a diseased state of the mind, there is mental unsoundness within the meaning of the law; but if the will is simply overborne by ungovernable passion there may be criminal responsibility. A man with ordinary will power, which is unimpaired by disease, is required by law to govern and control his passions. If he yields to wicked passions, and pur- missioner's office and explained that there posely and maliciously slays, another, he cannot escape the penalty prescribed by letters were issued, and knew nothing of RANSDELL-D. If he have mental capacity sufficient to adequately comprehend the nature and consequences of his act, and unimpaired will power fully sufficient to control an impulse to commit crime, he is not entitled to an acquittal upon the ground of mental incapacity."

> SHORTRIDGE TO THE WORKHOUSE. Sentence of Six Months and $700 Fine

for a Murderous Deed. One of the heaviest fines ever imposed in the Criminal Court of this county was yesterday assessed against Charles Shortridge, who was arraigned on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. Hisvictim was Kate Johnson, a young woman living at 408 East Ohio street. Shortridge assaulted her on Saturday evening, March 4. By agreement he was fined $700 and sent to the workhouse for six months.

Shortridge is about thirty-five years of age and was on the police force under Superintendent Powell. Since his retirement from the force he has been employed as a railway fireman. He knew Kate Johnson at WANTED-For U. S. army, able-bodied unmar- New Lisbon, Ind., eight years ago, and they were sweethearts. They fell out, however, portunity may be afforded for service in Philip- and she married another man. Several years afterward, however, she and her husband separated and she came to this city to live. Here she met Shortridge again and they became friendly. Shortridge was devoted to her, but she dismissed him because he drank. He was trying to get her to receive him again when the assault was committed. The young woman was employed at the Indiana bicycle works, and on Saturday, March 4, went home early in the afternoon. Shortridge, slightly under the influence of liquor, cailed to see her and was admitted to her room. They tasked over their affairs and she intimated that he was annoying her. He started to leave the room but turned back.

"You'll kiss me good-bye, won't you?" he "No, I won't do that," she replied.
"Oh, I guess you will," he said, and he placed his arm about her neck, drawing her head to his shoulder. Instead of kissing her he slashed her throat with a knife. He then deliberately left the room and the house. The young woman was taken to the FOR SALE-1839 bleycle for $1. We will send our City Hospital and the physicians were able. to save her life.

She appeared in court yesterday and expressed great anxiety lest Shortridge should get off with a light sentence. As soon as he was brought into court Shortridge announced through his attorney that he would olead guilty if he could get off with a year's imprisonment in the workhouse. State's Attorney Pugh declined to discuss such a proposition. Shortridge appeared to have a dread of the state prison, and finally consented to enter a plea of guilty and take the punishment proposed by the state. This will keep him confined about three years. Had he been tried by jury and found guilty the penalty would have been from two to fourteen years in prison. At the end of two | trial by court. years, with good conduct, Shortridge would have probably been turned out. The state's attorney took this fact into consideration in consenting to a workhouse sentence. Judge Alford warned Shortridge that at the en of his term he is not to molest the Submitted to court. The young husband decided that he wanted to enlist and did so. He went away with the troops and his wife occasionally received a letter from him. A few weeks ago he returned from the war, but it seemed that he could not locate his wife. She longed to see him again and eagerly waited for the time when he would receive his discharge. Demands for Personal Injuries. Richard and Norma Young are suing the Citizens' Street-railroad Company for damages on account of personal injuries. They were driving on College avenue, near Twenty-fourth street, when their horse became frightened at a car and ran off. The plaintiffs, were thrown out, and Mrs. Young claims she is yet suffering from nervous prostration as a result of the accident. The daintiffs say the motorman in charge of car unnecessarily sounded the gong as the car came up behind them, which scared their horse. Each plaintiff demands $19,000. Edward Shea, by his next friend, Ella Shea, is suing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $2,000 damages. He was employed by the defendant company as a section man and on Aug. 11, 1898, while at his work, a heavy bar of iron fell on his foot. He maintains that the accident was not due to any carelessness of his own and wants a judgment against the company.

Finally Sent to Hamilton County. Judge Leathers, of the Superior Court, yesterday granted Lilife Sheppard a change of venue in her suit against the Citizens' Street-railroad Company. The Conditions of His Last Match with Adamson Reversed. A great crowd thronged the Empire Theater last night, attracted by the Adamson-Murbarger wrestling match. Special in-Rose Wright et al.; mechanic's lien. Fur- | terest attached to the match because of previous meeting, in December, which was won by Adamson, who threw his opponent with ease, but there was also considerable speculation because notwithstanding Adamson's former victory, Murbarger ruled the favorite in betting circles, and even after from Clark, justice of peace. On trial by the men showed on the mat there was no scarcity on part of the local people to wager on their favorite. Frank Gehle, of Piqua, O., was accepted as referee. From the first Murbarger showed a vast improvement in form, handling himself more quickly and grasping opportunities with vim and vigor. His superior strength showed to marked advantage. The wrestling was fast and spirited throughout the first bout, with Murbarger the aggressor, but Adamson exhibited remarkable skill in breaking out of several extremely dangerous positions. He broke in succession an arm and half-Nelson hold, and also three crotch and half-Nelsons, Murbarger holding the last one fully five minutes before Adamson wriggled loose with a head spin. Several times Murbarger lifted Adamson bodily from the mat and tempted to force both shoulders down. He of her family. finally caught him with a reverse half-Nelson, forcing Adamson to succumb from physical exhaustion, winning the first fall in nineteen minutes

The second bout was scarce begun before it was over. Murbarger secured a body and a half-Nelson and dropped Adamson to the floor without himself leaving his feet. It was done so quickly that not even Murbarger realized it was a fall and after the refree had decided it was in his favor he insisted that it was a foul and offered to waive all claim and give Adamson another chance. Murbarger's friends, however, dragged him off the stage and the curtain was rung down. According to the announced terms a $500 purse and the house receipts went to the winner. The second fall was of but two minutes' duration. Afterwards Murbarger offered to wrestle any man in the country in his class for any amount not exceeding $1,000. It is very likely that Adamson will demand another chance at

Gardner Here from Hot Springs.

Oscar Gardner, the feather weight, who is to meet Eugene Bezenah, at the Empire Theater, Saturday night, in a ten-round go, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. Gardner is in fit shape after his stay at Hot Springs. While there he met "Jimmy" Murray in a twenty-round go, which went to a draw, and Tuesday afternoon defeated "Freddy" Bogan, a Pacific coast feather weight, in five rounds. Gardner claims the bantam and feather weight championships. He won the bantam championship from "Sammy" Kelly in fourteen rounds, at the Lenox Club, New York. George Dixon forfelted the feather-weight championship to Gardner immediately following the "Solly" Smith battle, in which Gardner whipped Smith in the sixth round. Gardner said, last night, that he is open to defend the titles to both championships held by him for any part of $5,000. Gardner's stay at Hot Springs and his two fights in a week heightened his condition, both being comparatively "work-outs" for him. Gardner is accompanied by his wife and mother and his trainer, "Bob" Cunningham, "Kid" Lefeber and "Johnny" Cramer are to go ten rounds in addition to the Bezenah-Gardner contest. These papers were important legal papers possession of Mr. McKinley at the time of the fire. They were forwarded to-night to Fostoria, O., by special messenger. Shortly before 11 o'clock to-night workmen found on the Forty-sixth-street side of the ruins a bundle of letters addressed to "Abner McKinley," the remains of a dress suit, a dress-suit case and a half-burned satchel. EDWARD ATKINSON'S THEORY He Thinks the Fire Was Caused by Spontaneous Combustion.

BOSTON, March 23.-Edward Atkinson, the well-known economist, in an interview to-day, stated that since the recent disastrous Windsor Hotel fire in New York he had given considerable thought to the possibility of preventing a like occurrence in the future. Mr. Atkinson's theory of the origin of the fire, from the facts which appear, is spontaneous combustion. He says t is probable the fire smoldered for a slow combustion invaded nearly every part of the structure, so that when the blaze finally sprang up, it spread to every part of the building almost simultaneously. It is thus that Mr. Atkinson explains the numerous fires in different places in the building, which were noted in the Windsor fire. Such a fire, he explained, could only occur in such a building as the Windsor, commonly known as the cellular type When asked for a remedy, Mr. Atkinson eplied that, in his opinion, no fire department in the world could successfully cope with a fire under such circumstances in such a structure, but, nevertheless, it would be possible in a great measure to protect life. He suggests a line of automatic sprinkler heads designed to throw a sheet of water towards the ceiling and walls. Water flowing from these would retard the progress of the flames sufficiently for every person in the hotel to escape before the condition of the building became dangerous.

Will Not Go to Liberia. NEW YORK, March 23.-It is likely that the destitute negroes who arrived in Jersey City from Oklahoma a week ago, hoping to continue on the journey to Liberia, will settle in Jersey City, Long Island City and various parts of New York. One week of confinement in their cramped quarters has served to completely dispel their dreams of the African paradise, and they no longer cling to the hope of reaching it. They do not know what they are going to do or where they will go, but stand about during the day and curl up in and around the seats at night only going far enough to buy food and returning immediately lest they should become separated from the others.

WASHINGTON, March 23 .- The Badger is not going to Manila, but will go to San Francisco, where it will undergo repairs at Mare island. The Navy Department has not been informed that the Badger has on board the remains of Rear Admiral James H Spotts, but it is presumed that it is so, and that they will be brought to San Francisco.

SCHEDULE ADOPTED

WESTERN LEAGUE MAGNATES STILL WORRYING OVER THE PROBLEM.

Much Depends on the Action of the National League-The Indianapolis Sunday Ball Question.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 23 .- The Western League baseball schedule, which it was expected would be given out to-night, has not yet received its final framing, and evening at the earliest. The magnates did not get together at all to-day, there being with several schedules in his pockets, the ball men seem to have been unable to agree on any one of them, and after yesterday's protracted meeting it became necessary to frame an almost entirely new table of dates. Mr. Johnson has been working to-day on the problem and expects to have it ready to submit at to-morrow's meeting.

Possibly the Western Leaguers are holding off to see what comes of the National League schedule meeting at New York tomorrow. If at that meeting it is decided to drop Cleveland from the circuit the Western League magnates can save the calling of another meeting by adopting a schedule while in this city to suit Cleveland instead of Columbus, as if the schedule is made to take in Columbus and later on that club is

SLOAN DOING BETTER.

Lands Grodno Even with Crestfallen in Race for Liverpool Cup. LONDON, March 23 .- At the first day's racing of the Liverpool spring meeting today, Lord William Beresford's four-yearold chestnut colt Grodno, by Gamin, out of Georgiana, ridden by Tod Sloan, and Lord Derby's five-year-old chestnut gelding Crestfallen, by Ocean Wave, out of Dolores, ran a dead heat for the Liverpool spring cup and divided the stakes. Mr. Fairies's four-year-old bay colt Chubb, by Chillington, out of Stocklock, was third. Nine horses ran. The race was one of the most interesting events at Aintree for a long time past. Tod Sloan on Grodno and Sam Loates on Crestfallen both rode splendidly. Loates brought Crestfallen up at the last stride. Grodno did not get away well, but led to the first turn, when the colt was headed by Chubb. At the mile post Grodno resumed the lead, but at the distance Chubb was again in front. Grodno, however, again pushed to the front, and then Crestfallen sprang forward and a most exciting finish resulted. Chubb being only a short head behind the dead heaters. This race is for olds and upwards. The betting was 9 to 2 against Grodno. The Union Jack stakes were won by W E. Oakley's chestnut colt Doddington, by St. Angelo, out of Flint. Lord Dunraven's bay colt Morgante, by Ben d'Or, out of Molly Morgan, with Sloan in the saddle, was unplaced. Seven horses ran over the course, a distance of one mile. The betting was 5 to 1 against Morgante.

"Resolved, That the registration of pure Arabs be accepted in the stud book to be classified under the head of Arabs. Such Arabs, if imported, must either have been registered in some recognized stud bool aboard as pure Arabs or have their pedigrees for five generations certified to by a shiek. If bred in this country to be descendants of such horses.'

Stallion Hanover Chloroformed. LEXINGTON, Ky., March 23 .- The famous American thoroughbred stallion Hanover, fourteen years old, by Hindoo, dam Bourbon Belle, was put to death to-day by chloroform. Gangrene of the left fore foot, the result of killing the nerves in it while racing, rendered the destruction of the horse necessary. Milton Young declined offers of $65,000 and $75,000 for him. Hanover was the sire of Hamburg, Halma, Ben Holliday and the Commoner. He led winning sires for the last three years.

For Three-Year-Olds.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 23.-The Charter Oak Park management has announced a three-year-old $10,000 trotting futurity for foals of 1899, to be trotted in 1902. The event is named the Hartford Futurity and is the most liberal event opened, the first payment being but $5 and the total entrance entitling each nomination to start but $50.

Favors Present Postoffice Site.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: The business men of Indianapolis cannot but feel the most important question before us at the present time is the location of the government building. In the consideration of its location the most important feature is, which will accommodate the largest number ong time and that gases generated by the of citizens, and expedite its business interests, for it is not a question of beautifying the city with its architecture, or of its elevation, but what will add most to the advancement of its business interests, which location is the most central, so that it can be reached by those who have the greatest amount of business to transact. We can scarcely hope for much of an increase of the population of an inland city, no matter how much we may claim for the fertility of soil of our great State, or of our being the railroad center of the United States, for the time being, which will soon be removed to St. Louis, by natural facts which exist. We know that our business interests will continue to develop, and that, in the course of twenty years, our wealth will naturally double, and that the present location of the postoffice building will best accommodate our business interests. Let us, then, lay aside all questions of sentiment in regard to location and recommend the government officials to build where they have so wisely located in former years and not disturb the business interests of the city. This would end all jealousies that would arise should any change of location be made. The city was most beautifully and wisely laid out; the Circle, with its unsurpassed monument, and the Statehouse wisely located; University Park, with its church spires rising from every corner; the hotels and office buildings located with regard to ready access to postal and other government business; the courthouse. City Hall and central connections of street-railway lines, built with the one idea of culminating near the one great central pulse of all business interests, towit. the postoffice, the great heart which feeds the veins and arteries of all business and all communications with the world outside of our immediate environments.
